

THE FIRST GLOBAL CONGRESS AND CREATIVE AWARDS FOR STUDENTS IN ARCHITECTURE

January 17th, 2007
BAU-MESSE MUENCHEN

AR
CHI
STU
DENTS

January 17th, 2007, Muenchen, Germany.

206 000 professional visitors from all over the world attended BAU 2007, host of the first ARCHI-STUDENTS global Congress and Creative Awards...

The first global ARCHI-STUDENTS CREATIVE AWARDS competition was a great success: 738 students did send in there best projects, representing 173 schools in architecture from 67 countries from all over the world:

Germany, Belgium, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Cyprus, Turkey, Denmark, Finland, France, Greece, Hungary, Israel, Italy, Croatia, Lithuania, Macedonia, The Netherlands, Norway, Austria, Poland, Portugal, Bulgaria, Romania, Slovakia, Spain, Armenia, Czech Republic, Turkish Republic N-Cyprus, UK, Sweden, Brazil, Switzerland, Albania, Algeria, Botswana, Cameroun, Congo, Morocco, Nigeria, South-Africa, Tunesia, Canada, Mexico, Argentina, Bolivia, Chili, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Uruguay, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Costa Rica, El Salvador, China, Japan, Georgia, India, Indonesia, Iran, South-Korea, Malaisia, The Philippines, Samoa, New Zealand, Russia, and the USA.

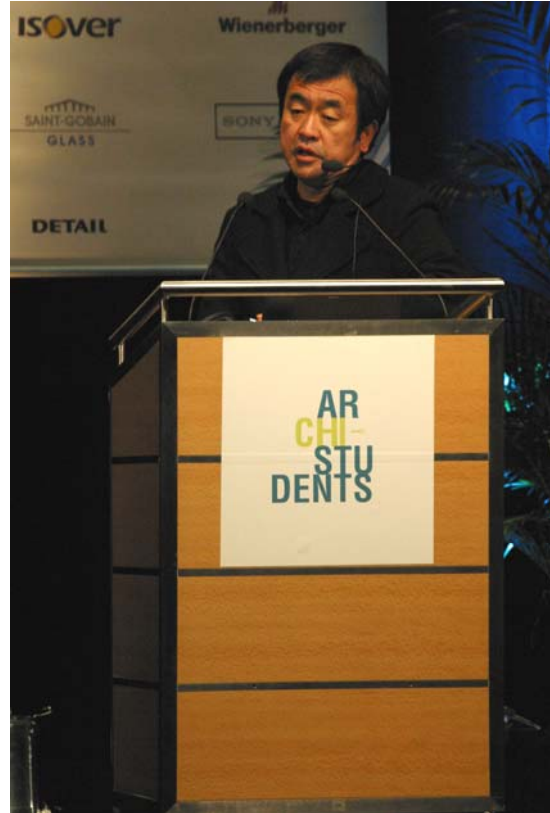

The Jury was composed of Mrs. Maire-Claire Regniers (Archi-News), Mr. Jacques Allard (Archi-Europe), architect Ronald Kern, Prof. Clemens Richard, Mrs. Dorina Fuksas and president of the jury, Mr. Massimiliano FUKSAS. After 3 rounds, 12 winners in 4 categories were selected. The final round took place at the ICM congress hall at Messe Muenchen.

Photo below: Mr Jacques Allard, Marie-Claire Regniers and Mrs and Mr. Fuksas working their way through the projects...

Photo right: Mr. Fuksas studying the work of a potential winner...

The first Congress for students in architecture - a joint venture between Archi-Students and Messe Muenchen- was one of the highlights of BAU 2007. An international platform of speakers and renowned architects convinced approx. 500 students from 44 countries to attend the congress, which had interesting topics such as sustainable building and workers mobility.

Mr Jacques Allard (background) had the honor to introduce 2 top level architects to an enthusiast crowd (photo below) (Left): Massimiliano Fuksas, inspiring the audience (Right): Kengo Kuma, a leading Japanese architect

A distinguished board of speakers talked about sustainable building and students mobility issues.

The Speakers :

Mr Norbert Bargmann, CEO of Messe München

Mr Jacques Allard, CEO Archi-Students.org

Mr Massimiliano Fuksas (Massimiliano Fuksas architecture), Chairman of the First European Congress for students in architecture and Chairman of the Jury of the First Creative Awards

Mr Joseph Jamar, Coordinator of the European Year of Workers' Mobility 2006, Directorate-General for Employment, Social Affairs and Equal Opportunities, European Commission.

Professor Clemens Richarz from Architektur Fachhochschule München on sustainable building

Mr Jürgen Royar of Isover Academy on sustainable building

Mr Martin Kasa (Marketing Director of Wienerberger)

Mr Kengo Kuma (Kengo Kuma & Associates, Japan) on sustainable building in architecture

Upper left: Joseph Jamar, Kengo Kuma
Right: Martin Kasa (Wienerberger)
Below left: Jürgen Royar (Isover)

The Awards:

The first global Creative Awards competition was a huge success with 738 projects representing 173 schools from 67 countries world wide.

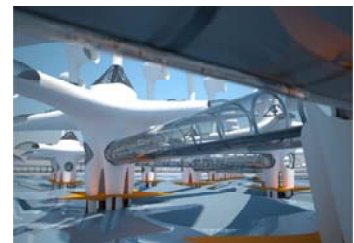

President of the Jury Massimiliano Fuksas (L) and Jacques Allard, founder of Archi-Students

Freestyle awards:

3rd prize:
Mr Paolo Ferrari
Italy
Bologna
Project: Battiferro
School: Università degli studi di Firenze

2nd prize
Mr Bram Van Cauter
Belgium
Project: Zero Killed
School: Sint-Lucas Architectuur Brussel
Hogeschool voor Wetenschap & Kunst

1st prize
Ms Justina Padvarskaitė
Lithuania
Project: Reading Cab
School: Vilnius Academy of fine Arts

Glass awards:

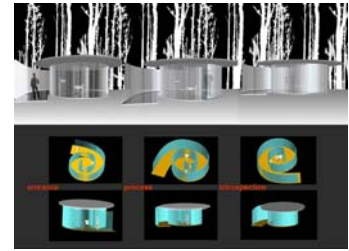

3rd prize:

Chile

Mr Felipe Contreras

Project: Snail Bath

School: Universidad de Chile –
facultad de Arquitectura y Urbanismo

2nd prize _____

Mr Aknazar Tumenbaev

Cyprus

Project: Together

School: Gyrne American University - Cyprus

1st prize

Jerome Anton,

Daniel Castilla Toledo,

Annegret Lochbrunner

Project: Skypod³ Eventcenter

School: Technische Universität München

Brick awards:

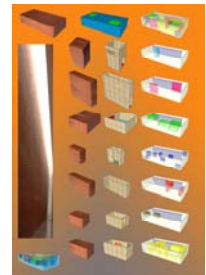

3rd prize:

Mr Diego Magri

Italy

Project: The Brick

School: Politecnico di Milano – campus Bovisa –
Prima Facoltà di architettura

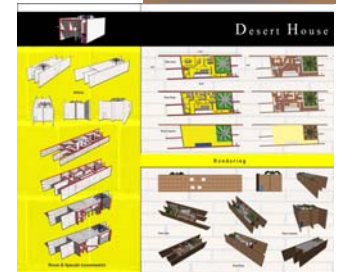

2nd prize

Mr Fausto Sutera _____

Italy

Project: Desert House

School: Università di Palermo – Facoltà di architettura

1st prize

Ms Cristina Costea

Romania

Project: Exhibition Pavilion of Cluj Napoca

School: Technical University of Cluj Napoca –
Faculty of Architecture and Urban Planning

Steel awards:

3rd prize

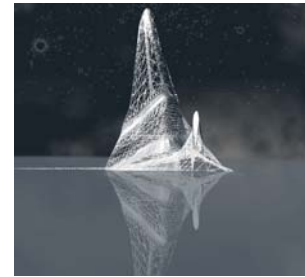

Mr Michal Kristof

Slovakia

Project: Center of Modern Architecture, Brno

School: Vysoke ueni technické v Brno –

Fakulta architektury

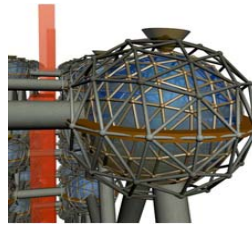

2nd prize

Mr Faraz Soleymani

Iran

Project: Geo City, Mashad

School: unknown

1st prize

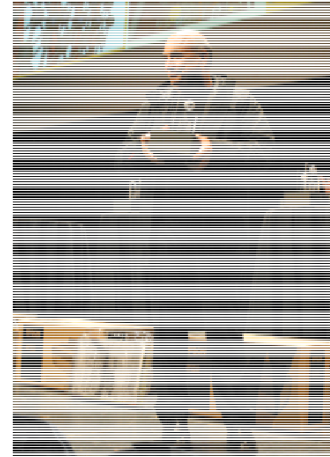

Mr Rudolf Brandstoetter

Austria

Project: The Helix

School: Technische Universität Wien –

Fakultät für Architektur und Raumplanung

Massimiliano Fuksas, chairman of the Congress and president of the Jury, was very satisfied about the quality of the projects

After the closing ceremony of the first global Creative Awards, Jacques Allard, Founder and CEO of Archi-Students, invited the students to each take their personal “Archi-Students Roller Bag”, filled up with catalogues, software and gadgets from the Archi-Students Founding Partners Wienerberger, Armstrong, PVC Design, Arcelor, Saint Gobain Glass, Isover, Sony Vaio and Epson. A happy end of a first successful congress, and the beginning of a bright future for the students...

Archi-Europe is Europe's leading network for architects. Archi-Students is the first global network for students in architecture. Do you want to be associated with our pioneering events, congresses, awards and educational film projects? Do you want to improve your brand awareness and introduce your products to the architects of today and of tomorrow? Discover all the impressive benefits of a partnership with us.

See you at

BATIMAT®
SALON INTERNATIONAL
DE LA CONSTRUCTION 2007

See you at

© All photos by Luc Denis Delestinne / Archi-Europe